Camp Summit

The Autism Society of Maine holds a summer camp program for children ages 8-13 with Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD). The purpose of this program is to develop effective communication skills and peer relationships in a social group setting. This summer program will consist of structured activities supervised by two professionals, and 8-10 college students or paraprofessionals participating in a field experience and earning credits towards their degrees and/or professions.

This summer camp program takes place in Farmington during the months of July & August. This is a two week day program that runs Mondays through Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

The camp committee reviews each application and has to match the child's needs with a college student who can meet the need not all applicants are guaranteed a spot in the camp program.

Impact of the Program

Children with ASD frequently exhibit behaviors that are misinterpreted by their peers; and are often bullied, misunderstood, teased, and occasionally physically harmed. This program provides a safe and fun environment in which children with ASD learn to develop friendships and practice social interaction strategies.

This summer camp program includes craft activities, outdoor play, swimming, field trips and many other activities to provide the children with opportunities for social learning.

Thus the purpose of this camp is twofold:

- 1) It will provide a positive social learning environment where children with ASD can learn and grow socially in a setting designed to respond to their individual needs.
- 2) It will provide an invaluable learning experience for college students and/or paraprofessionals who would like to learn more about autism spectrum disorders and want to dedicate their career to working with individuals with autism spectrum disorders.
